

newday

Inspired leadership for the greater good

Register your team (or yourself) today

<https://events.humanitix.com/newday-2020>

Newday 2020 Reimagining Leadership eSeries

The COVID-19 pandemic has forced so many of us to reconsider what is most important in life. While we absolutely love bringing large groups of people together in person, we have reinvented what Newday means in 2020 and are really excited to share this with you!

Working with some of the most in-demand leaders and speakers in Australia and globally, we have curated a compelling and deliberately practical series of supported leadership sessions to help you and your team lead for the greater good.

“How can we learn to be fully awake in the face of something unprecedented?”
— Otto Scharmer

As we emerge from a time of isolation and disruption into a world that is not quite familiar, our ‘Reimagining Leadership’ eSeries, starting on 1 July, will give you the impetus you need to challenge the status quo and create positive impact; to become a person who embodies ‘inspired leadership for the greater good’.

We are determined to move beyond a world limited to webinars or pre-recorded content and into a realm that brings people together around inspiring and insightful thinkers and do-ers. We want to support and embed deep learning, including work you can do on paper and work you can do with the support of peers. (from your organisation or other members of the Newday community)

It takes six weeks for most of us to develop new habits, so we have designed a program of six weekly leadership sessions that will run for 60 minutes, with some optional time to prepare or integrate learning.

Our program is designed to work even if you remain in physical isolation at home. It can be a self-directed leadership program where webinars can be watched live or out of scheduled session times (as they are recorded). We have also enabled innovation through the creation of what we are calling leadership 'pods'. If you have the opportunity to have small groups of staff together, within social distancing guidelines, this program is a great team activity. Small groups can watch the live webinar together on a large screen at work, share lunch and discuss learnings.

Or if you are keen to connect with the Newday Community and meet like-minded people, you also have the option of being matched with nine other participants to create your own leadership pod. This unique peer model provides for support and learning that can adapt as the rules for social distancing change here in Australia and across the world. There is every possibility that you will be able to meet with your pod in a physical space, or just join in a video or regular phone call as you prepare for or reflect on each session.

In this series you can look forward to

- sessions facilitated by Newday summit curators and hosts, Katrina Webb and Matthew Wright-Simon
- time for Q&A (with some sessions responding to questions prompted by participants)
- special guest speakers and interviewees
- activities to keep everyone focused and energy levels high
- the opportunity to be part of your own group (or 'pod') of approximately 10 participants so you can develop actions and support one another
- exclusive content from our Newday community, including keynote sessions from the last three years
- weekly 'homework' and reflection time to support meaningful change
- a Newday journal and workbook
- access to session recordings for 30 days.

Six weeks. Six leaders. Six reasons to be inspired. Develop new habits. Adapt to uncertainty. Lead for the greater good.

This series has so much to offer. It doesn't matter if you work in government, the corporate world, education, or the not-for-profit sector. This is a leadership program that welcomes anyone at any age or any stage of their journey.

Investment

One person	$149 + gst
Team of five	$689 + gst
Team of 10	$1249 + gst

For bookings for more than 10 participants, please email us at contact@newday.world. As a social enterprise, Newday Leadership funds opportunities for people to attend who otherwise could not. Enquiries are welcome.

The Program

Week 1

Wednesday

1 July 2020

16.00 – 17.15

(GMT +9:30)

A special welcome

The series starts with a special ceremonial welcome to country from Mickey Kumatpi O'Brien, Kurna elder and Newday Leadership advisor.

Dr Gill Hicks will open our program and invite us to use this precious gift of time as an opportunity to look deeper into ourselves and to ask just one question: how do I want to emerge from this Newday?

Our first special guest is from the UK.

Leading from the future as it emerges.

Martin Kalungu-Banda (UK)

Martin is a consultant in organisational and leadership development, a facilitator of innovation and change; trainer, coach and author. He is a faculty member for the Presencing Institute, and for HSBC Next Generation Development, HRH Duke of Edinburgh's Commonwealth Study Conference for Leaders, and the University of Cambridge Institute for Sustainability Leadership.

Martin works globally with business, government and civil society leaders. He advises the Tony Blair Africa Governance Initiative as thinking partner to Chiefs of Staff and Heads of State, including three years as Special Consultant to the President of Zambia.

Martin authored Leading Like Madiba: Leadership Lessons from Nelson Mandela (2006), It's How We End That Matters: Leadership Lessons from an African President (2009), and Driftology: How to Access Life's Greatest Opportunities by flying on the wings of others (2015).

The Program

Week 2

Thursday
9 July 2020
12.00 – 13.15
(GMT +9:30)

Harnessing your passion to wake up and change the world

Dr James Muecke AM, Australian of the Year 2020

James graduated with Honours from the University of Adelaide Medical School in 1987. Following his internship, James lived and worked as a doctor in Africa and subsequently as an eye surgeon in the Middle East, battling malaria, wild animals and rebel soldiers. He founded Sight For All in 2008, turning his boundless energy into a fight against blindness in the Aboriginal communities of Australia and some of the poorest countries of Asia and Africa. His commitment to social impact and humanitarian endeavors has earned him a string of awards including an Order of Australia in 2012, the Australian Medical Association's President's Leadership Award in 2013, and Ernst & Young's Social Entrepreneur for Australia in 2015. This year, Dr Muecke was announced as the Australian of the Year.

Following Dr Muecke's presentation, Newday's Matthew Wright-Simon will support James to answer your own questions about leading with passion for the greater good.

The Program

Week 3

Wednesday
15 July 2020
12.00 – 13.15
(GMT +9:30)

Reconnecting leadership with purpose

Rebecca Tapp in discussion with Katrina Webb.

Before Corona (BC), purpose was considered to be the North Star. The brightest light in the sky, a beacon guiding us to the future. But what happens when that future has been turned upside down? When the sky is all of a sudden covered by clouds? According to Rebecca, conscious leaders need to stop, and instead of thinking about purpose as something we steer towards in the future, use it as an anchor in the present moment. Reawakening and reconnecting purpose in leadership is no longer about purpose, [it's about being purposeful.

Rebecca Tapp assists industry leaders, CEOs, entrepreneurs and media personalities to activate purpose-driven influence. She has spent 15 years working in partnership with globally acclaimed speakers, activists, authors and influencers. She is the host of the Decoding Purpose Podcast, the CEO & Founder of Supernova Tribe, and a Director of Future Crunch.

We will also hear from special guests Rob and Cheryl Wood in conversation with Mike Worsman.

Rob and Cheryl are two human beings who have abandoned the 'normal' to pursue the truly extraordinary. At 72 years old apiece, this committed couple have sacrificed more than most in order to lead for the greater good. From not owning their first home until they were 63, to risking their life in war zones and never being paid a regular wage, what these two beacons of peace and hope will teach you is simple: there is another way... several, in fact.

The Program

Week 4

Wednesday
22 July 2020
12.00 – 13.15
(GMT +9:30)

Thinking differently to reimagine leadership

Vinh Giang

For more than 15 years, Vinh Giang has dedicated himself to mastering the art of performance-enhanced communication, helping thousands of professionals worldwide do the same through the power of magic. In his inspiring talks, Vinh seamlessly integrates storytelling and magic to motivate audiences to embrace change and see the “possible in the impossible.”

Vinh delivers his key messages in a truly memorable and profound manner that always leaves his audiences with a sense of wonder and empowerment.

In response to the world’s circumstances and the need for global leadership support, Vinh has transformed his keynote performances from stage to studio in ways that many would consider magical.

The Program

Week 5

Wednesday
29 July 2020

12.00 – 13.15
(GMT +9:30)

Lessons from Reimagining Leadership

An ‘all star’ line-up of former summit speakers return to host Newday breakout rooms on what this series has taught them — and how this may apply to you.

We have already confirmed

- Dr Fiona Kerr
- Megumi Miki
- Shivani Gupta and
- Mike Worsman.

More are likely to be announced as our numbers swell.

Each session will be recorded and made available for 30 days so that you will have the opportunity to enjoy each Newday leader’s thoughts on ‘Reimagining Leadership’.

The Program

Week 6

Wednesday
5 August 2020

12.00 – 13.15

(GMT +9:30)

Reawakening and re-emerging

Dr Gill Hicks and Ani Choying Drolma

Dr Gill Hicks returns to share her vision for a different world, one that is richer, wiser and most importantly, grateful. She will also challenge us to reflect on what you learned from the Newday eSeries and then make a personal pledge to bring your Reimagining Leadership Plan to life.

To close we will be joined by the incomparable Ani Choying Drolma, ‘buddhist rockstar nun’, author and philanthropist whose singing performances have earned her millions of admirers — in real life and online (where her music videos have amassed more than 20 million views). She will share her wisdom on leading for the greater good and close the program with her magical and healing voice.

Register your team (or yourself) today

<https://events.humanitix.com/newday-2020>